THE ACTOR NATIVE TO MADRID CROSSES THE OCEAN

IN DEPTH...

The fact that you haven't heard much about him lately does not mean that he is not working. Quite the contrary. The Madrid native has been planting seeds on the international screen, and now he is harvesting successes. After his role in Capadocia (HBO series), he has just filmed the latest movie by Klaus Menzel, What about love. A romantic drama on which this pretty boy and José Coronado put the stamp made in Spain.

You are experiencing a great moment, what did you gain after crossing the ocean?

There is a lot to learn and a great desire to keep learning. Not only in the professional side but also in life itself. The more time you spend away from home, the more your mind is open and the more you realize how small we are in such a big world. You also recognize that what you really miss is on the other side of the ocean, where your roots are.

Two passions: cinema and music. What came first: the egg or the chicken?

The cinema: a leading role in a dream movie in the year 1995, El Palomo Cojo, by Jaime de Armiñán. My work in music and dance was based on the musical series Un Paso Adelante.

Will we see you on stage again?

It is not in my plans, but whenever I say this the music comes back to me. When the series was over, I exchanged concerts for the

BEING AN ACTOR IS... "A privilege. Since it is a profession that is very much a calling, every day you feel fulfilled and in touch with yourself. A role that you dream of acting? Cyrano de Bergerac. I love it!"

Cosmo Test!

- Your idol: My father.
- The most mischief that you got into as a boy: Uffff! I got into so much mischief... one day I almost burnt down the whole house.
- The last time that you really laughed hard: With my friend Perico. When you have chemistry with someone, just a glance is enough.
- The last book that passed through your hands: The Art of Loving, by Erich Fromm.
- A smell: rain in the country.
- A color: yellow.
- Your biggest temptation: jelly beans

My motto

"The best advice that they have given me: in the end everything will turn out okay, and if it does not turn out okay, then it must not be the end yet. I believe that with effort and enthusiasm everything is possible."

theater. I thought that music was already a thing of the past, but that wasn't the case. A solo record in Europe (at my request it was not released in Spain) with Gold and Platinum Records in every country where it was released has meant that I keep receiving offers, although I stopped working on music to continue with my facet as an actor.

What do you think has been your greatest achievement?

Without a doubt, my friends. I am so proud! I admire them, I respect them and I am very thankful to know that I can count on them.
